

EARssentials:

Concepts and Techniques in Contemporary Hearing Research

July 17-21, 2017

Lectures: 8:30 a.m. - noon, daily
Laboratories*: 1 - 6 p.m., daily

National Institutes of Health Bethesda, MD

Topics

inner ear development and morphology, genetics of hearing loss, auditory and vestibular function, stereocilia structure, mechanotransduction, inner ear innervation, cell death, hair cell regeneration, and the zebrafish lateral line

www.nidcd.nih.gov/research/EARssentials

*Space in laboratories is limited
Reservations required for all lecture and lab sessions
Course registration is FREE

Contact Elyssa Monzack:
monzackel@nidcd.nih.gov, 301-827-4184

